

Overall, taxes are too high.

Specifically, taxing companies headquartered here on worldwide income is going to drive current companies out and discourage new ones from setting up here.

John Segal